Piano Values--Our Methods

In advertising our piano values and our methods it is our purpose to advise with all, along intelligent lines—the course to pursue in selecting a piano—one of real worth for the money you invest. We are confident of having the largest lines of quality pianos at the lowest prices, and our liberal terms of payment privileges you to the ownership of a piano the day you make your selection by investing a small amount of cash as first payment.

Our one-price policy must convince even the most doubting of our superior service in treating one customer the same as another, and is a point to be well considered when purchasing a piano. We invite inspections and comparison.

OLD FRIENDS

Were Glad to Welcome and Greet Father Emmet Kennedy.

The Rev. Father Emmet B. Kennedy, assistant pastor of St. Vincent's church at Mobile, Ala., who has been visiting his mother and other relatives in the Highlands during several weeks past, has gone to Philadelphia and other Eastern points for a fortnight. He will spend a day or more at his alma mater, Mount St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, before returning to Louisville about September 14.

Father Kennedy is a Louisville boy, a product of St. Brigid's parish and proud to be recognized as a "Hillier." Unfortunately his old neighbors and friends have not yet had an opportunity to hear him preach. The young priest knows something about labor unions, too. He was a printing press feeder before he began his studies for the priesthood, and he is just as good a union man now as he was ten years ago.

In a talk with a representative of the Kentucky Irish American Father Kennedy told several interesting things of the South. He is assistant pastor of St. Vincent's church at Mobile, Ala., a city of 65,000 people and seven Catholic churches. Father Kennedy sees great possibilities for the church in the South. He recognizes the need of colonization in Southern States. He told of a Chicago capitalist who has brought a colony of Irish immigrants to Baldwin county, Alabama, just across the bay from Mobile. Foley is the name of the Chicago capitalist, and Foley is the name of the colony he has founded. The land in that vicinity produces three crops of potatoes and vegetables annually.

Father Kennedy has a world of information that is useful and practical about the Southern States and about the church and its needs in the South, but he will never forget Louisville and old Kentucky.

PRIZE CONTEST

Will Be Feature of Mackin Council's Fete Next Week.

Mackin Council has completed all arrangements for its lawn festival and prize drawing contest to take place at its club house, Twenty-sixth and St. Cecilia streets, on the evenings of next Wednesday and Thursday. The beautiful and spacious lawn of the club house will be artistically decorated and electrically illuminated, the decorations and illuminations being both novel and unique. There will be ample entertainment for both young and old. The Mackin Social Club will entertain with a dance on each evening for the young folks. An out-door musical programme will be rendered for the enjoyment of the older folks, and there will be cool and delightful nooks where they may sit and chat. There will be the candy wheel and the wheel of fortune for those who wish to try their luck. On Thursday night the holders of the lucky tickets in the prize drawing contest will be announced, and also will be made known the member winning the contest for selling the greatest number of tickets, the prize for which is a trip to the world's series baseball games with all expenses paid.

The proceeds derived from this affair will be used by Mackin Council to install a memorial window in the name of its members in the new St. Cecilia's church, which is nearing completion.

KNIGHTS' LIBRARY

Will Be Formally Opened and With Great Pomp.

The members of the Knights of Columbus of Louisville will be interested in the announcement of the formal opening of the library, which is scheduled to take place on September 30. Quite a creditable selection of books has been made, and it is intended to keep adding to the number on hand.

Elaborate ceremonies will mark the throwing open of the privileges of the library on the date mentioned to the members, as this event will be the beginning of a new and interesting epoch in the history of the council. Classes in book-keeping, Christian doctrine and other branches are already under way in the council, and the library will be instrumental in making this work more valuable and interesting.

NEARING THE END.

The Louisville baseball club will play today, tomorrow and Monday at Toledo, closing with a double-header on Labor day, after which they will return home to open up with Columbus on Tuesday. After Columbus comes Toledo, then another road trip to Indianapolis and Columbus, followed by a home series with Indianapolis, which will mark the close of the playing season in this city. The team's improved showing during the Milwaukee and St. Paul series gives them an opportunity to still climb what is last place, which it is hoped they will do, and at least beat out Indianapolis. The club now has some promising next-year material in Meyer, Reilly, Allen and Burke, and as a comfort to the fans in the dark, dreary winter to come the management should endeavor to land that hustling Irish-American, old reliable Jimmy Burke, as a leader for 1911.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

Hopkins' Theater has made a very successful re-entry into vaudeville and enjoyed good houses during the present week. An entirely new vaudeville bill with many novelties that have won fame in London, Paris, Vienna and New York will be offered next week. It is the largest and most comfortable vaudeville house in the South and never lacks patronage.

AVENUE OPENING.

"St. Elmo," the novel that every woman knows, and the stage version of which every man will accordingly be obliged to take her to see, will be the attraction at the Avenue Theater for the week beginning with Sunday matinee. Willard Holcomb's dramatization was made by consent of the writer of the novel, Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson, and the Vaughn Company presents the only original version. The comedy elements of the play are contributed naturally and "in the period" by an old darky servant and a "po' white" family who are friendly to the heroine. The scenes are all laid in the South, in the vicinity of Chattanooga, Tenn., and at "La Bocaga" in Georgia, and the period gives opportunity for quaint costuming. Matinees will be given Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

RIVERVIEW.

Riverview Park, with its picturesque thoroughfares and widely varying amusements, is still maintaining its record for attendance. The free open air concerts, with a new programme every week, continue to please the multitude of merry-makers that crowd the resort daily, and the management has a surprise each week for the visitors.

PROMISING STUDENTS.

Daniel Driscoll, who is studying for the priesthood, has completed his course at St. Charles College, Elliott City, Md., and will take up his theological studies at St. Meinrad's Seminary in Indiana next month. John Fallon will return to St. Meinrad's for his second year, and Frank Martin will return to St. Charles College. All of these boys are from St. John's parish.

SUDDEN SUMMONS.

Charles Heverin Fell Victim to the Eternal Reaper.

Charles T. Heverin, one of the best known and most popular men in Louisville, died at his home, 715 East Broadway, on Tuesday afternoon. Death was due to uraemic poisoning superinduced by congestive chills. He was born in Ireland fifty-three years ago, and although he came to America when quite a child he could regale his friends with many a tale of stirring times in the Emerald Isle during old Fenian days.

Mr. Heverin is survived by his wife, who was Miss Josephine Uhrig, and nine children. The children are Edward and Charles Heverin and Misses Marie, Frances, Clara, Rose, Margaret, Anna and Catherine Heverin. Edward Heverin, a brother; Mrs. John Wille, of this city; and Mrs. Charles Forster, of Boston, also survive.

The deceased was always a Democrat in politics, and was one of the fifty charter members of the Louisville Lodge of Elks. He and his brother Edward established the bill posting firm of Heverin Bros. and for twenty-five years controlled that business in this city. Ten years ago he sold his interest to the Consolidated Bill Posting Company, but was an active employee of that concern up to the time of his death. Among those who knew him, Charles Heverin's word was as good as his bond. No man ever asked him for a favor and was denied. His funeral took place from St. John's church on Thursday morning, and many men occupying high places in the local government turned out to pay their respects to his memory.

PLEASED.

Mackin's Members Compliment Joseph Hancock on Work.

Mackin Council held a very well attended meeting last Monday night with President John T. Kenney in the chair. Seven members were reported ill but improving. Joseph Hancock, who was chairman of the committee that arranged the itinerary of the trip to Niagara Falls, made his report. It showed that the trip had been without accident, and had resulted in an increase of $220 to the council treasury. All who made the trip enjoyed every movement. Hancock was loud in his praise of the treatment accorded the Kentuckians by the Knights of Columbus at Buffalo. If any Buffalo Knights ever come to Louisville they will be due for a sure enough dose of Kentucky hospitality.

The debate with a rival team from Sarto Council, at Owensboro, will be held in Owensboro a week from tomorrow. Special coaches will carry the Louisville party to the Daviess county capital. The question to be debated is:

"Resolved, That women should have equal rights with men in suffrage."

Mackin Council has the affirmative end of the proposition, and Louis J. Kiefer and William Burke will be its representatives. The council made a substantial donation to the St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Hancock was accorded much praise for his hard work in connection with the Niagara Falls trip. While in Buffalo the members of the party made up a purse and presented him with a stick pin, cuff buttons and collar buttons.

FEDERATION

Has Two Able Delegates Attending Catholic Congresses.

The Most Rev. James A. McPaul, D. D., Bishop of Trenton, N. J., has been selected to represent the American Federation of Catholic Societies at the Eucharistic League at Montreal next week. Bishop McPaul is referred to as the father of the Federation and his new appointment is eminently fitting.

The Most Rev. S. G. Messmer, Archbishop of Milwaukee, is the representative of the Federation at the German Catholic Congress, now in session at Augsburg. Both prelates will make interesting reports of the respective congresses when the American Federation of Catholic Societies holds its annual convention at New Orleans on November 15 and 16.

PORTLAND VS. GLENWOOD.

With fair weather tomorrow the attendance at the Portland-Glenwood game at Eclipse Park promises to eclipse all records for attendance at amateur games, as the game promises to be a contest for blood. Both teams are evenly matched and each has a large following who will be on hand early to root for their respective favorites. The game was originally scheduled for Portland Park, but the large and unwieldy crowd which attended the Portland-Butchertown game a few Sundays ago caused the management to look for better accommodations for this contest, which is one of a three-cornered series to determine the championship of the Falls Cities. Doerhoefer and Vetter will act as Glenwood's battery, while Boardman and Schan will represent the West End boys.

HURT BY FALL.

While playing seacaw with a number of child friends last Sunday afternoon little Lucille Wickham, the eight-year-old daughter of Officer Stephen Wickham, fell and sustained serious injuries. Upon being removed to her home at Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets it was discovered that her left arm had been broken and her head so badly cut that two stitches had to be taken. The arm was set and the child is now resting easy.
